Solid Historical Fertilizer Demand Growth

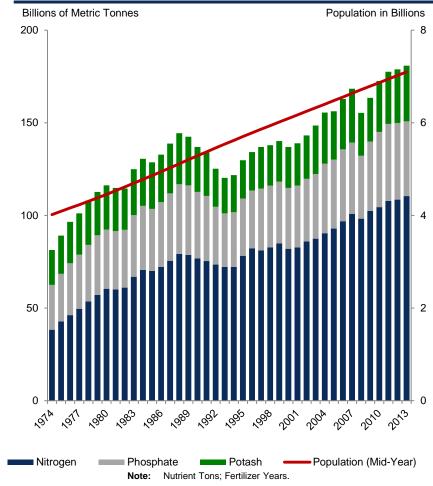

- Global fertilizer demand has historically increased in-line with population and income growth
- Nitrogen represents ~61% of global fertilizer consumption
 - Must be applied annually
 - Most important determinant of plant growth and crop yield
- Corn production consumes largest amount of fertilizer followed by wheat

Global Arable Land per Capita

Global Fertilizer Consumption

Solid Base of Corn Demand in the U.S.

 Corn has variety of uses and application, including feed grains, ethanol for fuel and food, seed and industrial (FSI)

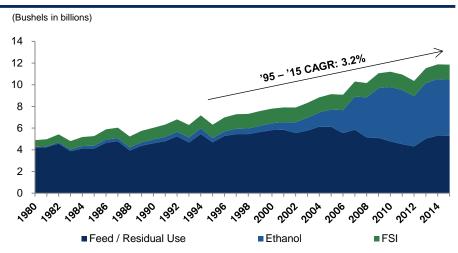

Feed grains

- ~96% of domestic feed grains are supplied by corn
- Consumes ~38% of annual corn crop⁽¹⁾

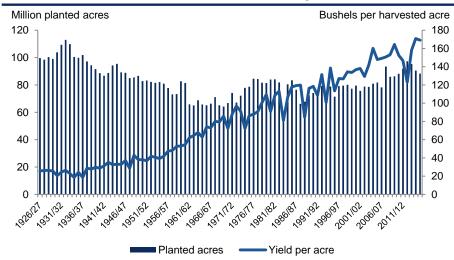

Ethanol

- Consumes ~39% of annual corn crop⁽¹⁾
- Corn production driven more by more yield than acres planted

U.S. Domestic Corn Use

Domestic Corn Planted Acres and Yield per Acre

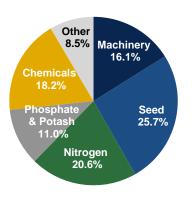

Nitrogen Demand Will Continue to Grow

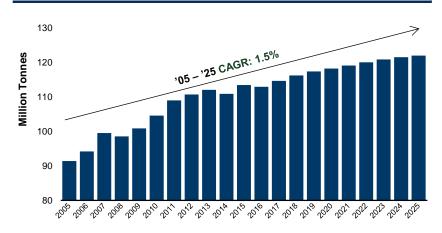

- Global nitrogen consumption is projected to increase by 33% between 2005 and 2025 driven by:
 - Population growth
 - Decrease in farmland per capita
 - Bio-fuel consumption
 - Continued evolution to more protein-based diets in developing countries
- Nitrogen fertilizer is a relatively small component of farmers' cost profile

New U.S. Nitrogen Production Displacing Imports

- U.S. has historically been a large net importer of nitrogen
- Supported by low natural gas prices in the U.S., new domestic capacity is coming online in 2016 and first half of 2017
- Capacity additions will not fully meet domestic demand
- After first half of 2017, no large capacity expansions expected for many years in the U.S.
- Expect further industry consolidation in the future

Strategic Rationale for East Dubuque Acquisition

A leading North American nitrogen fertilizer producer

 ~1.5MM delivered tons of nitrogen products per year

Both sets of unitholders participate in value creation

- Accretive to UAN's expected distributions per unit
- Attractive valuation for RNF unitholders
- RNF unitholders retain value of Pasadena

Diversification reduces risk

- · Asset diversification
 - Eliminates single facility risk for both partnerships
- · Geographic diversification
- Feedstock diversification
 - Natural gas and pet coke

Value creation from estimated annual run-rate synergies of at least $12MM

- Straightforward integration
 - Combine two standalone facilities
- Reduction of public company costs

Strategic platform for growth, as the industry consolidates

- Attractive market position
- Strong combined balance sheet
- Increased capital markets liquidity

Enhanced Flexibility and Reduced Operational Risk

- Well-positioned to capitalize on favorable North American nitrogen industry fundamentals
- Combination eliminates single facility dependency and risk

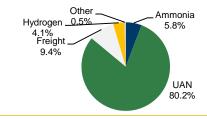

Coffeyville, Kansas Facility

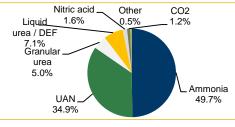

East Dubuque, Illinois Facility

Highlights

- Located in Kansas, adjacent to CVR Refining's facility
- Uses unique petroleum coke gasification process, also known as clean coke technology with CO₂ captured
- Located in heart of Mid Corn Belt
- Premium pricing due to advantageous location
- Relatively low cost North America natural gas as feedstock

Key Markets

Southern Plains

■ Mid Corn Belt (within 200 miles of the facility)

Feedstock

■ Petroleum coke

Natural gas

Acreage

■ 60 acres

■ 210 acres (140 feet above the Mississippi River)
